

RICHMOND CAPITAL PARTNERS LTD

Creating Real Wealth

DISTINGUISHED ALUMNI

Paul Holohan, Chief Executive of print and packaging industry mergers and acquisitions specialists, Richmond Capital Partners, has been honoured by Loughborough University with the award of its highly prestigious Distinguished Alumni Award. This award recognises Paul's longstanding entrepreneurial contribution to industry and his support of the institution of Loughborough University.

The award, which is given annually, states it is given to exceptional Alumni who have demonstrated outstanding inspiration, merit, achievement or commitment in a particular role, or to society, education, knowledge or research. Paul has contributed significantly in supporting the business community, including being a founder director of the National Print School, a former chair of Leicester College and serving on the School of Business and Economics Strategic Advisory Board at Loughborough University.

Paul achieved his MBA at Loughborough University, graduating with distinction, in 1996 whilst CEO of Leicester's The Print People Group. He left to found Richmond Capital Partners in 2000, initially establishing the company as the leading provider of mergers and acquisitions to the Print, Packaging and Plastics industries and developing its interests, more recently, in the engineering sector with the formation of Kingswood Business Sales. . He has completed over 200 sales, merger and acquisition transactions as lead adviser. He has written numerous academic papers, articles for various media and presented at several conferences, seminars and universities, as well as running advice seminars to print and packaging company owners. He is a Chartered Marketer, a Fellow of the Chartered Institute of Marketing and a Fellow of the Institute of Direct Marketing.

Loughborough University's Stewart Robinson..... presents the Distinguished Alumni Award to Paul Holohan (right), chief executive, Richmond Capital Partners

Accepting the award, Paul said "I am honoured and delighted to receive this Distinguished Alumni award and humbled to be amongst so many former distinguished alumni of the acclaimed Loughborough University. Completing my MBA was a life changer for me and I will always be grateful for the opportunity granted to me and for the knowledge gained which was instrumental in setting me out on a new career path providing business services, focusing on company sales, mergers and acquisitions and business mentoring."

For further information please contact: WNA
Telephone: (07768 936200)
E-mail: j@wnapr.com